

glasgow's in-home advice service to help you reduce your energy bills.

The G.HEAT home visit service provides free, impartial advice and information to Glasgow residents on all aspects of energy use.

Our energy advisors can give you advice that can help you to save money on your fuel bills and make your home easier to heat.

From general advice on energy efficiency, to getting the best deals and tariffs from your fuel supplier, G.HEAT can:

- Provide tailor-made advice on energy efficiency in the comfort of your own home
- Help you understand your fuel bills, meter readings and access the best energy tariffs
- Act on your behalf when dealing with energy suppliers / utility companies
- Help you get the best out of your heating system
- Recommend energy saving measures
- Advise you about offers on energy efficient appliances.

The Glasgow Home Energy Advice Team (G.HEAT) has been developed to help people in Glasgow make their homes more energy efficient.

Do you think you are paying too much for your energy use?

G.HEAT can:

- Advise you on cheaper deals for electricity and gas
- Help you switch energy providers and payment methods.

Worried about fuel bill arrears?

G.HEAT can:

- Help you monitor your energy usage efficiently, to avoid accumulating fuel debt
- Help you agree payment plans with energy suppliers
- Ensure that you are re-paying any arrears at a reasonable rate.
